

Ten young contemporary artists are on show at Botanique after their selection for ArtContest 2023, a national competition that serves as a springboard for emerging talent. It also provides them with long-term support amid a philosophy focused on aiding their artistic evolution and encouraging an art practice that reflects today's society. Four prize winners will be chosen by the jury that represents some of the country's major art institutions. 26 December to 4 February, Botanique, Rue Royale 236